CALIFORNIA STATISTICAL ABSTRACT

California proudly presents the annual measure of its growth in this, the fifth, Statistical Abstract. The story told in this volume is a story of growth unmatched anywhere in the United States. It tells of this state's growth in population, personal income, business and industry—in short, all the economic elements of the California success story. These figures tell still another story to those who read them carefully. That is the story of the growth in personal opportunity which is the goal for which we strive now and in the future.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

With publication of the fifth edition of the California Statistical Abstract, the Economic Development Agency again emphasizes that this compilation is possible only because of the indispensable contributions of the many departments of the State, of the several agencies of the United States government, of the California State Chamber of Commerce, and of the Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities. Their combined statistics annually make this publication a reality. We gratefully thank all who have contributed so much.

Unfortunately space does not permit mention of all the individuals who have made it possible for the Economic Development Agency to present these basic California statistics.

INTRODUCTION

THE STATE

California lies between the 32nd and the 42nd parallels of north latitude on the Pacific Coast of the United States. The State, first visited by Europeans in 1542, has been administered under nine flags. After a short period as an independent republic, it was admitted to the Union on September 9, 1850, as the 31st state. California is organized into 58 counties, and as of June 30, 1964 there were 389 incorporated cities; over 1,500 school districts of all types; and more than 3,400 special districts organized for other purposes.

Gross area of California is 101,563,520 acres, of which 100,206,720 is land area. Nearly half the total land is owned by the U.S. government, chiefly national forests and wild lands. The 1959 U.S. Census of Agriculture indicates 36.8 percent of the total land area is in farms. California's varied topography is indicated by mountain peaks of more than 14,000 feet above sea level and Death Valley at 282 feet below sea level. A unique feature of the topography is the large Central Valley of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers which contains much of the State's rich agricultural land. California's climate is temperate, but includes variations ranging from subtropical to frigid. Annual rainfall varies from more than 100 inches a year on the northwest coast to less than two inches in the southeast desert. The most populous areas experience annual rainfall of from 10-25 inches.

POPULATION

The State has doubled its population every twenty years since 1860. While the implications of California's population growth during the most recent period might seem staggering—the number of State residents has increased at a rate of 1,540 per day—rapid growth is not new to California. In the last ten years the civilian population increased an average of approximately 572,000 per year.

California's population as of July 1, 1964 was 18,234,000. This represented a gain of 564,000 or 3.2 percent during the twelve preceding months, a rate of increase more than twice that of the United States whose population increased 1.4 percent. As usual, the flow of migrants was responsible for the greater part of the increase. While the natural increase was 232,000 during the preceding fiscal year, a net total of about 360,000 civilian residents moved to California and these accounted for approximately 64 percent of the year's civilian population gain. Actually, net migration into California has exceeded 300,000 annually every year since 1955. The number of persons moving to the State has exceeded the number departing by more than 1.4 million since 1960.

California is one of the most urbanized of all states. At the time of the Census of 1960, only the District of Columbia whose population was 100 percent urban and New Jersey with 88.6 percent exceeded Rhode Island and California who were virtually tied at 86.4 percent urban. By contrast, the population of the remaining 47 states is 67.2 percent urban.

In 1964, approximately 60 percent of the State's population lives in the ten southernmost counties. One of these, Los Angeles, with 6,737,000 residents is the most populous county in the United States. California's second most populous county, San Diego County, is also among the southernmost ten, as is the fastest growing county in the State—Orange. The nine San Francisco Bay Area counties contain 23 percent of the State's population.

The State has a smaller proportion of residents 65 years or older than the United States. The age distribution of California's population is generally similar to the Nation as a whole, although a somewhat larger proportion of its population is concentrated in the working age years, 20 to 65. A comparison of the age distribution of California and the United States population is given in the following table:

PERSONAL INCOME

Personal income of California residents reached a record total of $52.3 billion in 1963. This represented nearly double the $26.6 billion reported for 1953, just ten years earlier, and a ten fold increase within a quarter century. Per capita income of $2,974 was 21.4 percent above the national average.

Two-thirds of California's personal income is received in the form of wages and salaries. Receipts from this source amounted to $35.5 billion in 1963. Property income amounted to $7.1 billion, or about 13.6 percent of the total, while proprietors income was $5.5 billion or 10.6 percent. Transfer payments added $4.3 billion, or 8.3 percent.

A comparison of income components in the State and the United States is shown in the following table:

California accounted for 11.3 percent of the aggregate personal income allocable to states in 1963. Manufacturing is the largest source of income with one-fourth of the total derived from participation in current production. Trade is second in importance, followed by service industries and government. Relative contributions by each of the major economic sectors are shown below:

LABOR FORCE, EMPLOYMENT AND EARNINGS

California's civilian labor force averaged 6,852,000 during 1963, an increase of 211,000 (or 3.2 percent) from 1962. During the past ten years the rate of growth of California's labor force has been more than twice that of the nation—35.4 percent compared with 14.4 percent.

Average civilian employment in the State increased by 189,000 between 1962 and 1963 to a new high of 6,441,000. Employment increased less rapidly than the labor force, and both unemployment and the unemployment rate increased slightly. An average of 411,000 California workers were unemployed during 1963, which was about 6.0 percent of the labor force, compared with 5.9 percent during 1962.

California nonagricultural employment established a new record of 5,402,300 wage and salary workers in 1963. On the average 192,900 more persons were working in nonfarm industries in 1963 than in 1962, a job growth of 3.7 percent.

About 29,000 of the new jobs created were in manufacturing. Within manufacturing, the largest gains were in food processing, fabricated metals, ordnance, electronics and machinery.

Annual employment in six industry divisions—manufacturing, construction, trade, government, services and finance-insurance-real estate—reached new highs in 1963.

About 90 percent of all nonfarm workers in the State in 1963 were employed in the ten major metropolitan areas—Los Angeles-Long Beach, San Francisco-Oakland, San Diego, San Jose, Sacramento, San Bernardino-Riverside-Ontario, Bakersfield, Fresno, Stockton and Santa Barbara.

Average weekly earnings of manufacturing production workers in California increased to an all-time high of $115.78 in 1963. Hourly earnings averaged $2.88, also a new record. The factory workweek averaged 40.2 hours.

Earnings of manufacturing production workers in California continued above the national level. The California averages of $2.88 per hour and $115.78 per week in 1963 compared with $2.46 per hour and $99.38 per week, respectively, in the nation.

MANUFACTURING

California is the nation's second-ranked state in value added by manufacturing. In 1962, California manufacturers produced $15.9 billion in added value, approximately 9 percent of the national total according to the Annual Survey of Manufactures.

Approximately $2.8 billion in value was added by manufacturers of transportation equipment. Second was food and kindred products with $2.3 billion, while electrical machinery was third with $1.8 billion.

California was first among the ten leading U.S. industrial states in manufacture of food and kindred products ($2.3 billion), in lumber and wood products ($412.3 million), and miscellaneous manufactures

($1.3 billion). This state was second in furniture and fixtures ($278.5 million), petroleum products ($435.9 million) and transportation equipment ($2.8 billion).

The Los Angeles-Long Beach Metropolitan Area accounted for approximately 59 percent ($9.4 billion) of value added by California manufacturers and the San Francisco-Oakland Metropolitan Area produced 16 percent ($2.5 billion). The two areas produced three-quarters of the State total. Nationally, only the New York and Chicago Metropolitan Areas exceeded Los Angeles-Long Beach Metropolitan Area in value added by manufacturing.

In 1962 expenditures for plant and equipment came to $912.6 million, about 9 percent of the U.S. total. Industries making the largest investments were food and kindred products ($133.1 million), transportation equipment ($126.2 million) and electrical machinery ($90.9 million). During the 1958-62 interval a total of nearly $4.0 billion was spent on new plant and equipment in California.

CORPORATE INCOME

Net income of nearly $4.0 billion allocable to California operations was reported by more than 95,000 active banks and corporations operating in the State during 1962. Manufacturing industries, with earnings of $1.5 billion, accounted for 38 percent of the total. The public utilities group with $844 million was in second place, followed by finance, insurance and real estate ($767 million), trade ($507 million) and mining and oil production ($150 million).

FOREIGN TRADE

Exports moving through customs districts in the State do not necessarily originate in California or, in the case of imports, are not necessarily bound for California destinations. A study made by the Department of Commerce of the year 1960, however, indicated the State is a major producer of products for export. During 1960, California ranked third among the states in value of manufactured goods which were exported. The leading products were transportation equipment, food products, and chemicals and allied products.

During 1963 nearly $1.7 billion in exports for world trade moved through California customs districts, while in excess of $1.5 billion of imports entered the United States via California. During 1963 the value of exports was about $327 million or 24 percent above the 1962 level, while the value of U.S. merchandise exported increased by 7 percent.

An increase of $69 million in imports into the State represented a 5 percent gain between 1962 and 1963. Nationally, imports also increased by 5 percent.

AGRICULTURE

According to the 1959 U.S. Census of Agriculture there were more than 99,000 farms in California and about 37 million acres of farm land. The average farm consists of 372 acres. Between 1954 and 1959 the number of farms declined by 19 percent, the amount of farm land declined by two percent, and the average size of farms increased by 21 percent.

California continues to be the nation's leading agricultural producer both in value and diversity of output.

Cash receipts received by California farmers during 1963 totaled $3.5 billion, over $100 million more than in 1962. Sales of all crops were an estimated $2.1 billion and accounted for 60 percent of total receipts. Livestock products earned $1.4 billion or 40 percent.

FORESTRY

Forestry is one of the most important California industries and represents a significant proportion of national forestry activities. The State contains 42.5 million acres of forest land, ranking first in the United States. More than 17 million acres are commercial timber. California is the second ranking state in volume of standing timber.

Approximately 16 percent of United States lumber production and substantial quantities of other wood products are manufactured in California. The State ranks second in timber cutting, second in lumber production and third in plywood manufacture.

MINERALS

Mineral wealth provided the historical impetus for California's first great wave of in-migration. Although gold mining has lapsed into relative unimportance, the State continues to be a leading producer of many important minerals. Estimated value of California's 1963 total mineral production was more than $1.5 billion. Petroleum accounted for approximately 49 percent of the total, while natural gas and natural gas liquids contributed 17 percent. The remaining 34 percent included a wide variety of minerals, with cement, sand and gravel, stone, and borates the most important in dollar value.

WATER RESOURCES

California has ample water to meet the State's present and forseeable needs. However, 70 percent of the available water supply is in the northern one-third of the State, while about 77 percent of the demand for water is in the southern two-thirds. To assure adequate distribution, the State has adopted the "California Water Plan".

The Water Plan is the culmination of studies made by the State Department of Water Resources and its predecessor agency which have been carried on continuously since 1947. In addition to providing plans for redistributing the water supply, the "California Water Plan" was designed as a multi-purpose program which will solve flood and water quality control problems. Also, it is a master state-wide plan to insure cooperation and coordination of all agencies—local, State and U.S. government—in constructing the physical works required for control, protection, conservation and distribution of California's water resources.

In 1960, California voters approved sale by the State of $1.75 billion general obligation bonds to assist in constructing the California Water Project portion of the "California Water Plan". Plans call for sale of these bonds over a long period of years. Repayment will be from revenues obtained from the sale of project water, power and other services. The initial sale of the bonds occurred in February, 1964 in the amount of $100 million.

During 1963 construction went forward on the Oroville Dam and reservoir project. The Feather River diversion tunnel was finished, routing that stream around the construction site, and the Dam's core block was completed on December 26th. Oroville Dam will be the highest earthfill embankment dam in the world when it is completed in 1968.

The year also saw the start of excavation for the Delta Pumping Plant and Intake Channel of the California Aqueduct and the commencement of construction on major features of the joint federal-state San Luis Unit, including San Luis Dam, San Luis Pumping-Generating Plant, Mile 18 Pumping Plant and reaches of the canal. Aqueduct construction south of San Luis is now underway. First water deliveries to Kern County are scheduled for 1968 and to southern California for 1971.

Construction of access roads in the Tehachapi Mountains preparatory to tunnel construction was started in 1963, and excavation of a pilot tunnel began in 1964. The four-tunnel system should be finished in 1969.

The California Water Plan will involve one of the greatest transfers of water ever made. It will provide the storage, aqueduct and pumping facilities by which surplus water from the north will be delivered as far south as Riverside County. The completed system will include 15 reservoirs and more than 660 miles of aqueducts.

SECTION A

AREA, GEOGRAPHY AND CLIMATE

This section presents summary descriptive data measuring the land and water areas of the State and describing the distribution of temperature and precipitation. The basic sources of these data are the Federal agencies responsible for surveying and mapping the United States and for recording its weather. Information on Federal and State parks and monuments is from inventories reported by the cognizant agencies.

Data given on Table A-12 on frost-free periods refer to the portion of each year during which the daily minimum temperature remains above 28 degrees Fahrenheit.

The first plate is a map which shows the geographical pattern of precipitation throughout California, as indicated by lines of equal normal annual precipitation. These lines generalize records and estimates for a large number of weather stations in all parts of the state.

The second map indicates the way in which the pattern of precipitation for the 1962-63 water year varied from the long-term average pattern.

A third plate consists of a graph showing the greatest rainfalls which have been recorded in California. A map insert on this graph gives the location of the precipitation stations reporting these rainfalls. Each point plotted on the graph indicates the amount of rain recorded and the length of time in which it occurred.

[b] Permanent inland water surface, such as lakes, reservoirs, and ponds having 40 acres or more of area; streams, sloughs, estuaries, and canals one-eighth of a statute mile or more in width; deeply indented embayments and sounds, and other coastal waters behind or sheltered by headlands or islands separated by less than 1 nautical mile of water; and islands having less than 40 acres of area. Does not include water surface of the ocean or bays.

[c] Water other than inland water. Much of the water adjacent to the State and falling under its jurisdiction does not belong to any particular county. The State area as shown above includes only the water which could be assigned to the counties and subdivisions of the counties. The definition adopted by the Bureau of the Census, characterizes this water as "inland water."

SECTION B.

WATER

This section presents summary information describing the uses to which land is put in California, the amount which receives water service, and the distribution of the available water supply of the State. Whenever possible, the information is given by hydrographic areas which are outlined on the map immediately preceding this section.

The interested reader who wishes to secure detailed information on these subjects is referred to State Water Resources Board, Bulletin No. 1, Water Resources of California, 1951, and to State Water Resources Board, Bulletin No. 2, Water Utilization and Requirements of California, June 1955. These two publications constitute a compilation and analysis of extensive stream flow data that measure the California water supply, and information about the water requirements that have developed and that can be expected to develop.

Records of stream flow are of varying duration and recording stations have been relocated from time to time in some instances. For these reasons, reference to a more detailed source of information is advisable in the event that specific analysis is contemplated.

[a] Based on land and water use surveys conducted by the Department of Water Resources.

[b] Includes farm lots and minor included acreages not receiving water service, such as roads, railroads, rights of way and other non-agricultural parcels of land.

[d] Estimates and surveys indicative of 1950 level of urban, suburban and miscellaneous development.

[e] Acreages, other than irrigated and urban, which received water service, such as the developed portions of recreational areas, military reservations, wild fowl refuges, and artificial water surfaces on the floor of the Central Valley. These last consume water by evaporation.

[f] Includes all water surfaces except Humboldt, San Francisco, and San Diego Bays, and the California portion of Lake Tahoe.

Explanatory note:

This list of major dams and reservoirs within California is only a listing of those projects which are outstanding either due to the height of the dam or the storage capacity of the reservoir. It includes those dams or reservoirs over 190 feet in height or at least 100,000 acre-feet capacity. There are more than 900 dams within the jurisdiction of the State. State jurisdiction is exercised over dams within the State of California which are 25 feet or more high, storing more than 15 acre-feet, or are more than six feet high, storing 50 acre-feet or more. In addition, there are nearly 70 dams owned and operated by agencies of the United States that are exempt from State jurisdiction.

SECTION C.

AGRICULTURE

Data presented in this section, with the exception of United States Census data, are official estimates of the United States and California Departments of Agriculture. Current estimates are available in greater detail in reports issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Statistics, which also contain more detailed statistics. Data for many agricultural commodities are available for varying numbers of years preceeding those shown in the tables. Data for 1963 are preliminary estimates.

Minor crops for which estimates are not prepared are not included in the "all field crops," "all fruit and nut crops," "all bushberry crops" and "all vegetable crops" categories in the tables. Certain information for some items does not appear in the tables because estimates are not applicable or were not made for the specific crop. For example, cottonseed is harvested from the same acreage as cotton lint, therefore acreage estimates are not published for cottonseed. Another example is corn for forage, for which separate production and value data are not estimated.

Years designated. The years designated for crops are "crop years" not calendar years. Planting or blooming may have started in the preceding year and marketing may have extended into the following year. Price and value data for livestock and poultry products, except wool, pertain to marketings in the year specified. Production data for livestock and poultry products are for calendar years.

Prices. Estimates of prices received by farmers generally represent composite averages of all grades, classes and methods of sale for the State as a whole. Prices for vegetables for fresh market represent the average paid for the packed products loaded at f.o.b. position. Prices for fruit and nuts are on the basis of naked fruit at growers' first delivery point.

Production of no value. Occasionally a portion of the production of a crop has no value. When this occurs, that portion without value is excluded from computations of average unit value and total value.

SECTION E.

FORESTRY

Forestry is one of the most important enterprises in California and represents a significant proportion of such activities in the nation. The State contains 42.5 million acres of forest land, ranking first in the United States. More than 17 million acres are capable of producing commercial forest crops. California has the second largest U.S. volume of standing timber.

About 16% of United States lumber production and substantial quantities of other wood products are manufactured in California. The State ranks second in timber cutting, second in lumber production, and third in plywood manufacture. There are approximately 1500 timber operators, 300 sawmills, 49 veneer and plywood plants including 24 softwood producers, eight wood pulp mills, four particle board plants, one hardboard plant and many secondary wood using industries, e.g. planing mills, furniture, and paper, in California. It has been estimated that nearly 2.3 billion dollars was added to the economy in all timber-based economic activities in California in 1958. See Table W-3 under manufacturing for statistics on employees and product value.

These industries are dependent upon a renewable resource—growing crops of trees—recognized as good business. Forests are vital to California also for watershed protection, recreation, and fish and wildlife.

More detailed data than that contained in the following tables are contained in Forest Statistics for California (Berkeley, 1954), California's Timber Industries: Some Facts and Figures (Berkeley, 1959), A Century of Lumber Production in California and Nevada (Berkeley, 1953) published by Pacific Southwest Forest and Range Experiment Station of U. S. Forest Service. See also Production of California Timber Operators in 1962 (Sacramento, 1964) of California Division of Forestry and various U. S. Bureau of Census reports cited in the tables. Information concerning potential of woodpulp industry and waste disposal is found in Waste Treatment and Disposal Aspects to Development of California's Pulp and Paper Industries (Sacramento, 1957) published by State Water Quality Control Board.

The Economic Importance of Timber in the United States (Washington, D.C., 1963) published by the U. S. Forest Service contains estimates of value added and employment for timber-based economic activities. Economic Development Prospects for the Commercial Forest Resources and Forest Products Industries of California (Berkeley, 1963) a Report to the State Office of Planning published by the University of California School of Forestry contains much information on the forest resource and related industries including regional breakdowns of ownership, production, and resource data.

SECTION F.

MINERALS

This section presents summary statistics of the quantity and value of mineral production in California, compiled by the Division of Mines and Geology and the Division of Oil and Gas, California Department of Conservation. More detailed figures are available from these agencies.

The monthly publication, Mineral Information Service, provides information on geology and mineral resources of California, the usefulness of minerals and rocks, and mineral production statistics.

In addition to this monthly release, the Division of Mines also issues the Report of the State Geologist and a number of other publications. The most recent edition of Mineral Commodities of California was released in 1957 as BULLETIN 176. It gives information on the geologic occurrence, economic development, and utilization of the State's mineral resources.

Detailed statistics on petroleum and natural gas production are published by the Division of Oil and Gas in the semiannual Summary of Operations, California Oil Fields, and the monthly Oil and Gas Production Report, both free.

Statistics of mineral operations in California will also be found in the reports of the U.S. Bureau of Mines and the Census of Mineral Industries published by United States Bureau of the Census. Latest census was conducted for 1954.

SECTION G.

POPULATION

The tables in this Section summarize available data on the population of the State of California, its counties and cities. Comparisons of California's population with the totals for the Pacific Division and the nation are also shown.

All figures on the population of California through April 1, 1950 and those for April 1, 1960 are from publications of the United States Bureau of the Census, and represent decennial census counts or estimates prepared by that agency. The estimates for the years 1950 to 1964 were prepared by the Department of Finance and are based on the analysis of components of population change summarized in Table G-4. Data used in the preparation of these estimates have been obtained from the Bureau of Records and Statistics, Department of Public Health; the Bureau of Education Research, Department of Education; the State Selective Service System, the United States Department of Defense; and the United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

The Department of Finance publishes annual reports on the State's population, presenting additional material which includes current estimates of the State and County populations. A series of periodic reports is published listing current estimates prepared by the department at the request of various California cities.

SECTION H.

PUBLIC HEALTH

This section presents statistics relating to public health in California, prepared by the State Department of Public Health.

The sources of data for public health statistics and reports are registration and reporting systems established by law, voluntary reporting systems established with local health agencies, and surveys and special studies conducted or sponsored by the Department.

In interpreting public health statistics, certain limitations must be recognized. Morbidity data are limited by the incompleteness of reporting, the changes made in specific diseases which shall be reported, and by the nature of the incidence of certain diseases in cyclical patterns. The comparability of cause of death data is affected by increasing medical knowledge, changes in classifying disease categories, and changes in international rules for selecting the underlying cause of death.

Crude rates for vital events are influenced by age and sex distributions within the total population. Trend tables for specific causes of death present age-adjusted rates in which the influence of the changing age distribution is removed.

For interpretation of statistics relating to vital events, the following definitions should be noted:

Residence. A person's residence is his usual place of abode. Birth tables by residence refer to the place where the child's mother usually lives. Differing from the census allocation, deaths and births in institutions are allocated to the inmate's previous residence regardless of length of stay in institution.

Occurrence. The place of occurrence is where the birth or death actually occurred.

Live Birth. Live birth is the complete expulsion or extraction from its mother of a product of conception (irrespective of the duration of pregnancy) which, after such separation, breathes or shows any other evidence of life such as beating of the heart, pulsation of the umbilical cord, or definite movement of voluntary muscles. A fetal death is required to be registered if the 20th week of gestation has been reached.

More detailed statistical information is published annually in the California Public Health Statistical Report. Other public health data from program activities, special studies and research projects are also available from the Division of Research, Health Surveillance Unit, Department of Public Health, 2151 Berkeley Way, Berkeley, California.

SECTION I.

LABOR FORCE, EMPLOYMENT AND EARNINGS

This section presents statistics relating to the civilian labor force of California, including employment, unemployment, hours of work, earnings, apprenticeship, work injuries, union membership, and work stoppages. Employment covered under the Unemployment Insurance provisions of the California Unemployment Insurance Code is regularly reported in California Employment and Payrolls, published quarterly by the Department of Employment. Agricultural employment covered only for purposes of Disability Insurance is regularly reported in California Employment and Payrolls in Agricultural Labor, also published quarterly by the Department of Employment. Current data on the civilian labor force, civilian employment and unemployment are published monthly in Employment and Unemployment in California, issued jointly by the Department of Industrial Relations and the Department of Employment. The Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Statistics and Research, publishes monthly data on nonagricultural employment, average hours worked and average earnings in the California Labor Statistics Bulletin; monthly work injury statistics in Work Injuries in California and a detailed annual summary in California Work Injuries; annual union membership data in Union Labor in California; annual data on work stoppages in Work Stoppages in California; and information about collective bargaining practices and other industrial relations data in California Industrial Relations Reports, issued three or four times a year.

Labor force. The labor force represents the sum of civilian employment and unemployment as defined in the following paragraphs. Caution is urged in comparing the statistics of employment and unemployment contained in this section with those published by the United States Department of Labor. The figures are not strictly comparable because of differences in methods of collection as well as in definitions and concepts.

Total civilian employment. Representing an overall figure of total employment, civilian employment covers the estimated number of employees in nonagricultural establishments, as defined below, plus estimates of employers, own-account workers, unpaid family workers, domestic workers, and agricultural workers.

Nonagricultural employment. The statistics of nonagricultural employment are prepared by the Division of Labor Statistics and Research in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, and are comparable with national estimates prepared by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics and with State and area estimates prepared by other states. Excluded are domestic workers, employers, own-account workers, and unpaid family workers as well as agricultural workers. Government employment refers to civilian employees only.

The estimates cover all full- and part-time wage and salary workers (administrative, supervisory, sales, technical, and office personnel, and production workers) who worked during, or received pay for, any part of the pay period which includes the 12th of the month. Persons on an establishment payroll who are on paid holidays, paid sick leave, or paid vacations, or who work during a part of a specified pay period and are unemployed or on strike during the other part of the period are considered employed. Persons on the payroll of more than one establishment during the pay period are counted each time reported. On the other hand, persons who are laid off or are on leave without pay, who are on strike for the entire pay period, or who are hired but do not report to work during the pay period are not considered employed. Data for Federal defense establishments generally refer to persons who worked on, or received pay for, the last day of the month; for Federal nondefense establishments and state and local government, data relate to persons who received pay for any part of the pay period which includes the 12th of the month.

Agricultural employment. Estimates of employment in agriculture—including farmers, wage and salary workers, unpaid family workers, and foreign contract workers—are prepared by the California Department of Employment.

Other employment. Estimates of the number of employers, own-account workers, and unpaid family workers in nonagricultural industries and of domestic workers are prepared by the Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Statistics and Research, based upon data derived from the U. S. Census of Population and upon various current series such as the number of sales tax permits, number of business and professional licenses, and other available information.

Unemployment. Estimates of unemployment are prepared by the California Department of Employment.

The term unemployment, as used in this series, means all persons who are in the labor market but who for the seven days in a given week have not done any work for pay or profit. To be counted as unemployed a person must be able to work, available for work, and looking for work.

The definition used is broadly comparable with that of the United States Bureau of the Census.

The estimates of unemployment represent the number unemployed during the week which includes the 12th of the month.

Components used in preparing estimates of total unemployment are (a) certified unemployment measured by weeks of unemployment insurance claimed under the California Unemployment Insurance Code minus partial and part-total weeks claimed, (b) estimated number of persons who have exhausted these benefits and remain unemployed, (c) estimated number of unemployed persons who could file for unemployment insurance compensation but do not file or delay filing a claim, (d) unemployed railroad workers as reported by the Railroad Retirement Board, (e) certified unemployment of Federal workers covered under the provisions of the Unemployment Compensation for Federal Employees Act of 1954, (f) estimated unemployment among persons normally employed in industries not covered by unemployment insurance, such as agriculture, State and local government, domestic service, and most nonprofit institutions, and (g) estimated unemployment among recent entrants and re-entrants to the labor force and among the self-employed.

Unemployment rate. The unemployment rate represents the number of unemployed as a percent of the civilian labor force, i.e., the sum of the employed and the unemployed. The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate eliminates the influence of regularly recurring seasonal fluctuations which can be ascribed to weather, crop-growing cycles, holidays, vacations, regular industry model changeover periods, and the like, and, therefore, more clearly shows the underlying basic trend of unemployment.

Labor turnover. The Department of Employment develops and publishes labor turnover rates for manufacturing industries for the State as a whole and for the State's major metropolitan areas.

Labor turnover data, which represent the gross movement of wage and salary workers into and out of employment status with respect to individual establishments, are collected from a sample of 3,700 California establishments engaged in manufacturing. The sample covers approximately 65 percent of all manufacturing employment.

Labor turnover information is divided into two broad types: accessions (new hires and rehires), and separations (terminations of employment initiated by either employer or employees). Each type of action is cumulated for a calendar month and expressed as a rate per 100 employees.

Earnings and hours. The Division of Labor Statistics and Research compiles statistics of earnings and hours in all manufacturing and selected nonmanufacturing industry groups in California as a whole and in nine of the major metropolitan areas of the State. These statistics of average weekly earnings, hourly earnings, and hours per week are derived from employment, payroll, and hours information reported by a representative sample of establishments in each industry group.

The averages are based upon data for full- and part-time workers who worked during or received pay for any part of the reported pay period in a given month (usually the week which includes the 12th of the month). Included in average earnings are overtime pay and premium wages for late shift work.

Work injuries. The work injury statistics are based upon reports of on-the-job injuries to workers employed in industries covered by the California Workmen's Compensation Act. These reports are filed with the Division of Labor Statistics and Research in compliance with the provision of the California Labor Code. Not covered by the California Workmen's Compensation Act are maritime workers, Federal employees, and railroad workers in interstate commerce.

The injury rate per 1,000 workers employed in each industry division is obtained by dividing the number of disabling injuries reported by the estimated number of wage and salary workers in the industry.

The number of fatal work injuries includes (1) deaths for which findings and award decisions were issued by the Industrial Accident Commission; (2) deaths for which compromise and release settlements were approved by the Commission; and (3) deaths for which liability was accepted by the insurance carrier or self-insurer without an Industrial Accident Commission determination.

The statistics of insured payroll and workmen's compensation benefits are compiled by the California Inspection Rating Bureau, and are on a policy-year basis. The figures do not include the experience of self-insured private and government employers.

The statistics of payrolls and compensation benefits paid by private self-insurers are derived from semiannual reports submitted to the Supervisor of Self-Insured Employers, Department of Industrial Relations. The compensation benefits include amounts paid in the designated calendar year for injuries sustained in the current year and continuing benefits for injuries which occurred in previous years. These figures are not strictly comparable with the statistics of incurred losses contained in Table I-27.

Union membership. California union membership figures are collected by the Division of Labor Statistics and Research by means of the annual Organized Labor Questionnaire.

All unions affiliated with the AFL-CIO or predecessor organizations are included in the membership survey. Unions not affiliated with the AFL-CIO are included if they are known to have written collective bargaining agreements with two or more different employers. Also included are unaffiliated unions with a written collective bargaining agreement with a single employer if the contract covers the employer's operations in more than one location in California and if the union has 1,000 or more members. Unions of government workers, which do not usually execute written collective bargaining agreements, are included if affiliated with the AFL-CIO. An unaffiliated union of government employees is included only if it has members in other states as well as in California.

Work stoppages. The statistics of work stoppages in California are collected by the Division of Labor Statistics and Research in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Included are all known strikes and lockouts involving as many as six workers and lasting the equivalent of a full shift or longer. For statistical purposes a strike is defined as a temporary stoppage of work by a group of employees to express a grievance or to enforce a demand; a lockout is a temporary withholding of work from a group of employees by an employer (or group of employers) in order to induce them to accept the employer's terms. Each concerted action is counted as one stoppage, irrespective of the number of unions, employers, or establishments.

The number of workers involved includes all employees in establishments directly involved in a stoppage who are idle for a full shift or longer. Employees in other establishments who are unable to work because of material or service shortages, or for other reasons indirectly connected with the stoppage, are not counted among workers involved. The same worker can be counted more than once in the annual total if he is involved in more than one stoppage during the year.

The number of mandays idle is obtained by multiplying the number of workers involved in a stoppage by the number of days or shifts they would normally have worked had there been no stoppage. Allowances are made for fluctuations in the number of workers involved during the period of the stoppage.

FOOTNOTES FOR TABLE 1-4

[a] These data are based on Social Security Board Industrial Classification Code of 1942 for nonmanufacturing industries and the Standard Industrial Classification Manual of 1945 for manufacturing industries. They are not directly comparable to data in this publication for the year 1960 and later which are based on the Standard Industrial Classification Manual of 1957. Numerically speaking, the only significant changes by industry division brought about by reclassification in January 1958 were increases of two percent in Manufacturing and three percent in Transportation, Communication, and Other Public Utilities and decreases of two percent in Wholesale and Retail Trade and four percent in Service Industries. Further detail concerning effect of reclassification can be obtained from Department of Employment, Research and Statistics Section.

[a] Disability causing absence from work for a full day or shift beyond the day of the injury. Excludes injuries to employees not covered by the California Workmen's Compensation Act, such as maritime workers, Federal employees, railroad workers in interstate commerce.

[b] In January 1963, the definition of a "work fatality" for statistical purposes was revised to exclude all compromise and release settlements amounting to $1,000 or less, except where the sole issue was dependency. As a result of this exclusion, beginning with 1963 the recorded number of work fatalities is not strictly comparable with totals for prior periods. Thirty-nine fatalities that were compromised for $1,000 or less were excluded from the fatality count for 1963. Twenty-nine fatalities would have been excluded during 1962 if this definition had been used.

[c] Injuries to employees of publicly operated utilities are included under transportation, communication, and utilities.

SECTION J.

SOCIAL INSURANCE AND WELFARE

This section presents data relating to State programs providing unemployment and disability insurance, Federal programs administered in California to provide unemployment compensation to veterans and former federal employees and Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance benefits; federal, state and county programs assisting the aged, the blind, the disabled, and needy children, providing medical care for public assistance recipients and medical assistance for the aged; county programs of general relief; and the state, county and private agency program providing adoption services. There are several principal sources for these data. Current statistics relative to operations are available in the monthly report to the Governor prepared by the Department of Employment and in monthly reports prepared by the Department of Social Welfare. Data on public assistance expenditures and recipients are regularly reported in Public Welfare in California, issued monthly by the Department of Social Welfare. Public assistance data are based on reports to the Department of Social Welfare by county welfare departments. Data on medical care recipients and expenditures are reported regularly in Medical Care Services and Expenditures, published monthly by the Department of Social Welfare. Public assistance and medical care data are based on reports to the Department of Social Welfare by county welfare departments. Data on adoption services are based on reports to the Department of Social Welfare by the department's area offices, and by county welfare departments and private adoption agencies.

Employment Security. Unemployment insurance and disability insurance activities are reported from 1938, or the inception of each program. Legislation has modified the coverage, benefits, and services under these programs from time to time, and many uses of the data will require reference to the statutory changes. A detailed description of all changes which substantially affect the figures given here has been published by the Department of Employment under the title, Summary of Major Changes in Program of Department of Employment, 1935-1963.

Old Age Security. Statistics under this caption relate to financial assistance to persons 65 years of age or over who do not have sufficient financial resources to support themselves. Within limitations, recipients may own real property if it provided some income and keep additional real or personal property as a reserve for future needs. In general, the ceiling on income producing real property is $5,000 net assessed valuation and $1,200 net value on property held as a reserve. There is no limitation on the value of any real or personal property used as a home. The recipient must have lived in California for one year immediately preceding application plus four of the last nine years.

Aid to the Blind. The data relate to financial assistance for blind persons in need who cannot support themselves.

Within limitations, recipients may own real property if it provides some income and keep additional real or personal property as a reserve for future needs. In general, income-producing property must be producing income reasonably related to its value and the ceiling on property held as a reserve is $1,500 net value. There is no limitation on the value of any real or personal property used as a home. A recipient with an approved plan for self-support may own additional property for not longer than 12 months if the property will further his self-support plan. The recipient must be at least 16 years of age and be a resident of California.

Aid to Potentially Self-supporting Blind. These figures describe financial assistance and medical care for persons who, because of blindness, are unable to support themselves, but are working on a plan for self-support.

Within limitations, recipients may own real property and keep additional real or personal property for future needs and own additional property if the property will further his self-support plan. Age and residence requirements are the same as those for Aid to the Blind.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children. The data relate to financial assistance for children under 18 years of age who are in need because of the death, continuous absence, incapacity, or unemployment of a parent. (The program was amended, effective February 1, 1964, to include children in need because of unemployment of a parent.) In general, the ceilings in financial resources are $600 value of personal property, less certain encumbrances, and $5,000 assessed valuation of real property, less encumbrances of record. Unless the child was born in California, he or his parent(s) must have resided in California for at least one year before application. Assistance is available for children living in foster homes as well as for children living with a parent(s) or relatives.

Aid to Needy Disabled. Figures under this heading relate to financial assistance and medical care for needy persons who have a major physical or mental impairment or a combination of both that is likely to continue without substantial improvement throughout their lifetime and who need care regularly. The program was amended by the 1963 Legislature so that effective January 1, 1965, the definition of disability is changed to include needy persons who have an impairment which substantially precludes them from engaging in useful occupations within their competence, such as holding a job or homemaking.

Medical Assistance for the Aged. This program, which began January 1, 1962, provides payments for care in hospitals and nursing homes and outpatient after-care, to persons 65 years of age and over who are not recipient of Old Age Security and who are unable to pay for this care from their own funds. The statistics report the number of inpatient and outpatient certificate holders in benefit status, total and average payments by type of care, and source of funds.

General Relief. Data on this subject relate to assistance to needy persons not eligible under state subvented assistance programs listed above. It is administered and financed entirely by counties. Eligibility requirements and standards of assistance vary from county to county.

Adoptions. Services provided by this program include studies of the suitability of adoptive homes, suitability of children for adoption, and recommendations to the courts on granting of adoption petitions. When a child is placed in an adoptive home by an adoption agency (county or private), it is termed a ''relinquishment'' adoption; when the child is placed directly by the parent, it is termed an ''independent'' adoption.

[a] Part 3 of the Unemployment Insurance Code was added in 1959 to provide for payment of extended duration benefits. An extended duration claim may be initiated in any month when the ratio of UI weeks claimed (including extended duration weeks) to covered employment averages 6% or more, in reference periods defined by the Code. This situation first occurred in April 1960.

[b] Includes weeks compensated by Joint UI-UCFE and/or UCX benefits.

[e] Program effective for months April-November.

[f] Program effective for months March-December. Decrease in number of weeks compensated reflects May 1961 transition of payment for extended periods of unemployment from liability under provision of California Unemployment Insurance Code to liability under provisions of Federal Temporary Extended Unemployment Compensation Act of 1961 (Cf. Table J-8).

[g] Increase in number of weeks compensated reflects the assumption in April, 1962 of liability under California Unemployment Insurance Code following the final date for filing a new claim under the Federal Temporary Extended Unemployment Compensation Act.

UI—Unemployment Insurance.
UCFE—Unemployment Compensation for Federal Employees.
UCX—Unemployment Compensation for Ex-servicemen.

Medical care allowed as special needs in recipients' grants prior to October 1957 and grant allowances for services not covered by the Medical Program after October 1957 are included in "Subsistence"; data on expenditures for these medical services are not available.

[b] In the two-year period ending June 30, 1950, county funds were contributed only for July-December 1948.

[c] Based on recipients eligible for Public Assistance Medical Care.

[a] General Home Relief is that form of General Relief given to persons in their home to meet one or more of the basic subsistence items of food, shelter, or clothing. The definition of GHR includes residents who are residing in the county. It does not include transients since they are by definition persons who are not residing in the county.

SECTION K.

MENTAL HYGIENE

This section presents statistics on the major programs maintained by the State of California for the care and treatment of persons with mental and emotional disorders. The State Department of Mental Hygiene maintains ten hospitals for the care and treatment of patients with mental illness and related psychiatric disorders, three day treatment centers, four hospitals for the custodial care and training of mentally retarded persons, seven State mental hygiene clinics for outpatient treatment, and two neuropsychiatric institutes (associated with the University of California Medical School) for treatment, training of professional personnel, and research.

It should be understood that the prevalence of recognized mental disorder cannot be measured by the statistics in the following tables, since these data are limited to facilities either operated by or subsidized through the Department. Treatment is also offered by licensed private mental institutions in the State, with an inpatient caseload of more than 7,500, by approximately 70 locally operated nonprofit outpatient psychiatric clinics, by city and county general hospitals with psychiatric wards, by three large neuropsychiatric hospitals of the United States Veterans Administration, by public school systems with special classes (particularly for children with mild or moderate mental retardation), and by the large number of psychiatrists in private practice.

More detailed information on the subjects covered by the following tables and other services in the field of mental hygiene is available in periodic and special reports issued by the Department of Mental Hygiene. Additional statistical data on mental hygiene facilities outside the Department are available in periodic reports issued by the Biometrics Branch of the National Institute of Mental Health.

Hospitals for mentally ill. The majority of patients are admitted to these hospitals through commitment by the county superior courts. The majority of commitments are for the treatment of mental illness, but some are made for chronic alcoholism, drug addiction, and sex offenses predisposed by mental disorder. A patient may be released at any time after admission when, in the medical judgment of the superintendent, he has improved sufficiently to permit a return to the community; for mentally disordered sex offenders, the approval of the committing court must also be obtained. Hospitalization ranges from a few days for the treatment of an acute transitory episode to 40 or 50 years for a patient with severe chronic mental illness. The median length of stay prior to discharge is less than three months.

Many counties request observation placement for patients in a State hospital prior to the adjudication of mental illness. About half of these observation placements return to the community without commitment. In some of the counties, the county general hospital provides this service.

Two types of admission do not involve court action: hospitalization may be requested by the county health officer on the certification of two physicians, or voluntarily by the patient at his own request. This last form of hospitalization, which may be terminated by the patient at any time, accounts for an increasing proportion of the total annual admissions. Currently, about one in every four patients is admitted on a voluntary basis. Patients who are committed, of course, can petition the committing court for their release through habeas corpus proceedings.

Patients may be released from the hospital by leave of absence, with continued extramural supervision by psychiatric social workers of the Department. About 60 percent of the leave placements are successfully closed by discharge and about 40 percent are returned to the hospital for further treatment. Departures without staff permission are classified as unauthorized absences, usually involving patients who have almost completed their convalescence and have complete freedom of the hospital grounds; in most instances the patient either returns to the hospital, or the case is continued under extramural supervision or closed by discharge.

For many types of patients the case is closed by direct discharge at the time the patient is released from the hospital. Finally, cases are also closed by death in the hospital.

Hospitals for mentally retarded. A patient is considered eligible for admission only if the parent or guardian, the county authorities, and the hospital medical staff are in complete agreement that hospitalization is best for the patient and for his family. Following the determination of eligibility, admission may be delayed for periods ranging from a few days to several years, depending upon the relative urgency of the case. On June 30, 1963, there were 1,490 cases on the waiting list.

Unlike mental illness, mental retardation is relatively incurable. Thus patients with severe mental retardation usually receive lifetime custodial care. On the other hand, the mildly mentally retarded participate in training and rehabilitation programs and in hospital maintenance activities, and thus are able to return to useful lives in the community after only a few years.

Community Mental Health Services. Patients having neurological or emotional disorders who can benefit from psychiatric treatment while remaining in their communities are served by the seven state-operated mental hygiene clinics, by aftercare clinics located at ten of the state hospitals for mentally ill and at one hospital for the mentally retarded, and by the outpatient departments of the two neuropsychiatric institutes at San Francisco and Los Angeles. More recently, community psychiatric services have been made available at outpatient, inpatient, and psychiatric rehabilitation facilities administered by cities or counties where part of the costs of operation are met by state subvention under the Short-Doyle Act for Community Mental Health Services.

Psychiatric services rendered by these facilities include diagnostic evaluation, psychological testing, individual interview psychotherapy, group psychotherapy, and family-centered therapy, as well as treatment through the use of psycho-pharmaceuticals and electric shock. In addition, the majority of these clinics offer consultation and informational services to both professional and lay groups in the local community.

Inpatient care offered by cities and counties is limited to short-term evaluation or treatment. Reimbursement under the Short-Doyle Act may not cover hospitalization in excess of 90 days.

SECTION L.

EDUCATION

This section presents data compiled by the Bureau of Education Research of the California State Department of Education relative to public school enrollment, apportionment, personnel, and current expenditures for public school education. Higher education data relate to all public and independent colleges.

Actual enrollment. This term describes the number of pupils registered on October 31 of the indicated year. Enrollment information is collected semiannually on October 31 and March 31, dates when schools are well under way and the enrollment furnishes a good cross section of the number of youngsters actually in school during the semester. The data given here are as of October 31. Previous to 1947, enrollments were collected on an accumulative enrollment basis. Data are not furnished previous to 1947 since they would not be comparable to the enrollment information furnished here. Accumulative enrollments previous to 1947 are available from the Bureau of Education Research upon request. The K-14 enrollments indicate kindergarten through grade fourteen; K-8, kindergarten through grade eight; and the high school enrollment includes grades nine through twelve; and junior college, grades thirteen and fourteen. Special enrollments, or enrollments in special classes, are defined by footnotes.

Detailed information on actual enrollments by individual grades, by county, on each classification included in the special enrollments, and on the number of pupils on half-day sessions, are published semiannually by the State Department of Education.

The higher education enrollments include the public junior colleges (also reported with public school enrollments), the state colleges, the University of California, and independent colleges and universities. The Bureau of Education Research began the first complete compilation of higher education enrollment data in 1954-55. This accounts for the fact that the information as furnished here covers only a seven-year span. Full-time enrollment includes enrollment in twelve or more units. Freshman means less than 30 semester units of recorded credit, sophomore from 30 to 59 units, junior from 60 to 89, senior means more than 90 units, and graduate students are students with a baccalaureate degree from a recognized four-year college.

A specific distribution of enrollments in higher education, in terms of distribution by year and by individual institutions, is published by the Department of Finance, Budget Division.

Apportionment average daily attendance. This is the average daily attendance which is used to apportion state school funds. For this purpose, the elementary average daily attendance includes kindergarten through grade eight, irrespective of the location of the grades. Accordingly, grades seven and eight in the junior high schools are included in the elementary level. The high school average daily attendance indicated in this table includes grade nine through twelve, irrespective of location, and the junior college grades thirteen and fourteen.

The apportionment average daily attendance is in the annual publication of the State Department of Education entitled Apportionment of the State School Fund for the Fiscal year. . . A detailed breakdown in terms of individual districts and in terms of county totals may be obtained from this source.

Apportionment of state funds to public schools. These figures give a distribution of the principal apportionment which includes both basic and equalization financial aid to each of the levels (elementary, high school, and junior college). Also included is the apportionment which is made to the county school service fund, i.e., the operation of the office of the County Superintendent of Schools. Since the state apportionment to schools is now being made based on current data, average daily attendance and assessed valuation, the apportionment for growth has been eliminated. Special apportionments include reimbursements for transportation, driver education, and excess cost for physically and mentally handicapped. A detailed explanation of each of these funds and the legal basis for its allocation is furnished in the annual publication of the State Department of Education entitled Apportionment of the State School Fund for the Fiscal Year . . .

Current expenditures. The figures given here include total expenditures made by the school districts from (1) local funds, raised chiefly through property taxes, (2) the monies apportioned to the districts by the State and, (3) Federal funds (approximately 3%). These expenditures include only expenditures from the general fund of the school district, but do not include general fund expenditures for food services, community services and capital outlay. Special funds, such as building fund, bond interest and redemption, etc., are not included. Expenditures are furnished in terms of district organization, i.e., the expenditures in terms of the elementary districts, high school districts, junior college districts, and unified districts. The unified district column indicates the total expenditures for unified districts, including all levels which are encompassed by unified districts. In some instances this is kindergarten through grade twelve, and in other instances, kindergarten through fourteen. All of the expenditures of the unified districts are included in this column and are not indicated in the other column designations.

Full-time personnel. This figure is the total number of full-time personnel in the public schools, exclusive of substitute or other part-time teachers. The number of full-time personnel in California public schools are available in Salaries of Certificated Employees in California Public Schools, published annually by the Bureau of Education Research.

SECTION M.

CRIME, CRIMINAL JUSTICE AND DELINQUENCY

This section presents summary tables showing the number and procedural movement of persons under commitment to the two State correctional agencies, the Departments of Corrections and Youth Authority.

Data relating to the Department of Corrections start with the year 1945, and those for the Youth Authority start with 1946, the years in which central statistical controls were established.

No data are presented on crimes committed, persons arrested, or the procedures of criminal justice. These data, to be meaningful, must be given in more detail, and require more explanation and qualification than would be appropriate in this volume. The interested reader is referred to the publications of the Bureau of Criminal Statistics, Department of Justice, for such data. The first of these, Crime in California, presents data on felony crimes, felony arrests, and juvenile arrests, as reported by sheriffs and police, and on the procedures and results of prosecution in the superior courts, as reported by district attorneys. Delinquency and Probation in California presents data on the characteristics of, and procedures applied to (1) juveniles referred to county probation departments, (2) persons referred by superior and juvenile courts to the Youth Authority and, (3) convicted persons referred by superior courts to their respective probation officers. California Prisoners, published by California Department of Corrections, describes the characteristics and movement through prison and parole of adult persons convicted of felonies and committed to the Department of Corrections.

The Annual Statistical Report published by the California Youth Authority summarizes the facts about the referrals to that Department, characteristics of wards first committed, ward population movement and data on parole performance.

In the Department of Corrections, the California Rehabilitation Center was established by 1961 legislative action. This Center, opened September 15, 1961, is for the confinement and treatment of narcotic addicts civilly committed to the Department under Penal Code Chapter 11.

SECTION N.

PERSONAL INCOME

Estimates of personal income received by residents of each state are prepared annually by the National Income Division, Office of Business Economics, in the United States Department of Commerce. Data are available, by years and types of income, back to 1929 in Personal Income By States. Totals and details for the most recent years are reported in the August issue of the Survey of Current Business. Quarterly estimates of personal income in California, at annual rates, comparable to the United States Department of Commerce series, are prepared by the Budget Division of the State Department of Finance. Mimeographed reports of this information are available upon request.

An understanding of the conceptual basis of income estimates is essential to the use of these data and it is assumed that users interested in sources of basic information, estimating techniques, definitions, and limitations of these data will consult the Department of Commerce reports mentioned above. Particular note should be taken of the facts that income (1) represents receipts before payment of income taxes and certain non-tax charges, and (2) includes nonmonetary income, such as imputed net rental values of owner-occupied homes and payments in kind rather than cash. As defined, residents include individuals, nonprofit institutions, private trusts, and private pension, health and welfare funds. Nonprofit institutions include religious organizations, clubs, labor organizations, nonprofit schools and hospitals, charitable, welfare, and other private nonprofit agencies furnishing services to individuals.

Wage and salary disbursements. Monetary remuneration of employees, including commissions, tips, bonuses, etc., and payments in kind.

Other labor income. Employer contributions under private pension, health, welfare and group insurance plans, compensation for injuries, pay of military reservists, directors' fees, etc.

Proprietors' income. Net business earnings of owners of unincorporated enterprises, including farmers and such professional practitioners as doctors, dentists, and lawyers.

Property income. Rental income of persons (including royalties on patents, copyrights, and rights to natural resources and imputed net rents), personal interest incomes (including certain imputations), and cash dividends.

Transfer payments. Receipts from government and business for which no service is rendered currently: pensions, unemployment benefits, disability benefits, direct relief, bad debts absorbed by business establishments, corporate gifts to private nonprofit institutions, etc.

Personal contributions for social insurance. Employee contributions for old age and survivors insurance, unemployment insurance, and public employee retirement systems. Includes similar contributions for such purposes by self-employed individuals. Personal contributions for social insurance are deducted in estimating personal income, since wage and salary disbursements are reported including amounts withheld by employers for this purpose.

The source report shows total and per capita incomes by types and major sources in greater detail than is shown in this Abstract, industrial sources of personal income, total and per capita disposable income (after direct personal taxes and certain nontax payments) and ratios which cannot be reproduced here for reasons of space.

Estimates of personal income, by counties, are prepared by the Economic Development and Research Department of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

Personal income tax data. Personal income tax returns are required of single persons with gross incomes of $5,000 or more or net incomes of $1,500 or more and of married persons with gross incomes of $5,000 or more or net incomes of $3,000 or more. For the period 1950-1958, the net income filing requirement was $2,000 for single persons and $3,500 for married persons.

Personal income tax tables are classified by adjusted gross income class intervals. Adjusted gross income includes salaries and wages (less certain unreimbursed expenses incurred in connection with employment), dividends, interest, annuities, a percentage of net gains or net losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets, gains or losses from the sale or exchange of property other than capital assets, rents and royalties less expenses attributable thereto, gross receipts from business less costs of goods sold and business expenses, and distributive shares of partnership gross income, alimony and separate maintenance payments, pensions, income from life insurance and endowment contracts, income from discharge of indebtedness, income in respect to a decedent, and income from interest in an estate or trust.

Sampling techniques have been used to derive most of the data appearing in the tables presenting the number of personal income tax returns and the amount of adjusted gross income.

It is evident, of course, that much of the personal income is received by persons who had insufficient amounts of gross income and net income to necessitate their filing state returns or is exempt from state taxation (e.g., dividends on veterans' government insurance, federal and state social security benefits, railroad retirement benefits, workmen's compensation for personal injuries or sickness, interest on federal bonds, etc.). Conversely, there are items of taxable income which are not included in the personal income concept such as gains from sales of assets and alimony. Hence, the data on taxable income are not strictly comparable to those on personal income.

SECTION O.

PRICES AND COST OF LIVING

This section presents the Consumer Price Index for Los Angeles, San Francisco, California, and the United States. In addition, a summary of the California Industrial Welfare Commission's Budget for a Self-Supporting Working Woman is presented.

Consumer Price Index—The index measures the average change in prices of goods and services purchased by city wage-earner and clerical-worker families.

The indexes for Los Angeles, San Francisco, and the United States are those compiled by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics. The index for California has been computed by the California Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Statistics and Research, as the weighted average of the Los Angeles and San Francisco indexes. The weights used are proportional to the populations of the Los Angeles and San Francisco areas.

Current figures for Pacific Coast cities are published regularly by the Regional Office, United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, San Francisco.

Industrial Welfare Commission Budget for a Self-Supporting Working Woman—The Industrial Welfare Commission is responsible for establishing a legal minimum wage for women and minors in California under provisions of the Labor Code which stipulate that the minimum wage fixed by the Commission "Shall not be less than a wage adequate to supply the necessary costs of proper living to, and maintain the health of such women and minors."

The Industrial Welfare Commission of the California Department of Industrial Relations formulated the working woman's budget to measure the standard implied in the law—that of decent, healthful living at a minimum cost. In stipulating budget items, the Commission considered the needs of a single working woman, 35 years of age or older, in reasonably good health, who is entirely self-supporting, who works in a store or an office, and who works within the same transportation zone in which she lives. For the purposes of the Budget, the Commission stipulated that the woman shares a 3-room apartment with another woman, each paying one-half the cost of rent, utilities, and household operations.

The Budget was priced by the Division of Labor Statistics and Research, Department of Industrial Relations. The total cost of the Budget represents a composite of prices in five areas of the State: the Los Angeles-Long Beach Metropolitan Area, the San Francisco-Oakland Metropolitan Area, and the cities of San Diego, Fresno, and Lodi.

ELECTIONS

Information relating to registrations and voting is presented in this section. In interest of space the data are limited to registrations, by principal political parties, the total vote cast, and a statement of the vote for major candidates for the offices of President, United States Senator from California, and the constitutional officers of this State. A complete accounting of registrations, the vote for all candidates (including representatives in Congress, State senators, assemblymen and judicial officers) and the vote cast for and against all ballot propositions is given by the Secretary of State in Statement of Vote, a booklet issued after each primary and general election.

All eighty members of the Assembly and half of the forty State senators are elected each even numbered year. Constitutional officers are elected for four-year terms in the even numbered years which are not leap years. Thus, there is a vote on high elective office, either presidential or gubernatorial, at each general election.

According to reports of the United States Bureau of the Census, there were 7,092,000 civilians in California aged 21 years and over on April 1, 1950. Registrations for the general election of that year totaled 5,244,837 and there were 3,845,757 votes cast. By April 1, 1960 the number of civilians of voting age had risen to approximately 9,660,000. Registration for the general election of 1960 totaled 7,464,626 and there were 6,592,591 votes cast. It must be recognized that civilian population and registrations are not entirely comparable. Some individuals of proper age do not possess other voting qualifications and members of the Armed Forces may vote, if they have the residence and other qualifications. However, these population figures provide a general background against which to interpret registration and voting data.

SECTION Q.

PUBLIC FINANCE

Data relating to the financial operation of governmental agencies in California are summarized in this section. The information is arranged according to the level of government, starting with the Federal and running through special districts. In general the purpose is to present figures on revenues, expenditures and debt, with additional details on each of these subjects where these can be readily prepared in summary form. Supplementary information is available in the files and records of the several contributing agencies.

A warning should be given against adding either revenues or expenditures of the several governmental levels and treating the result as the aggregate income or outgo of governments in California. A great deal of money passes from one level to another in the form of subventions and other intergovernmental payments. Consequently there is a substantial duplication in these figures which can be eliminated only after careful examination of the various items involved. Differences among governmental agencies in accounting practices, especially in regard to disbursements from proceeds of bond issues, also will require attention in any meticulous use of these data.

Federal taxation and expenditures. Annual reports of the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue are the source of statistics on Federal tax collections in California. Collections within a particular state are not an accurate measure of the burden of Federal taxes paid by the people of that state. For example, 60 percent of the cigarette tax is collected in North Carolina and more than 80 percent of the motor vehicle excise tax is paid in Michigan. But the burden of these taxes is carried by cigarette smokers and vehicle users in all states. The ratio of Federal tax collections to the burden of Federal levies varies with changes in the tax structure, economic conditions and other factors. In general, however, the burden upon Californians exceeds the volume of Federal taxes collected here by ratios ranging between 10.4 percent[1] and 17.4 percent.[2] One of the most recent surveys indicated that in 1957-58 the estimated burden of Federal taxes in California exceeded gross collections by 13.6 percent.[3]

Data on Federal tax refunds, by states, are available for the last three fiscal years and they show an average refund of 9 percent of gross collections in California. This ratio should be kept in mind in connection with the data in Tables Q-1 and Q-2 which are reported on a gross basis.

Complete data on Federal expenditures by states are not available, but payments by the Federal government to state and local governments and transfer payments to individuals, organizations etc. are reported by states in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury on the State of the Finances. Amounts for California in selected recent years have been transcribed in two tables for this section. Attention is directed to the numerous footnotes in each annual report which because of space limitations cannot be repeated in this Abstract.

State revenues, expenditures and bonded debt. The summaries here presented are based upon budget classifications of State revenues and expenditures,

[a] Receipts in the various states do not indicate the Federal tax burden, since taxes collected in one state are, in many instances, borne by residents of another. For example, the withholding taxes reported by employers situated near state boundaries include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees residing in neighboring states.
Data for 1961 through 1963 indicate that approximately 9 percent of gross collections in California are refunded.

[b] Individual income and employment taxes, reported separate through 1951, cannot be segregated in recent reports.

General note: Original reports from which these data were compiled contain extensive footnotes. These should be consulted by users interested in continuity of these series, comparability and other details.

with total income and outgo carried back to the 1929-30 fiscal year and detail provided for the period since 1939-40. Additional information may be obtained from the Annual Report of the State Controller and the State Budget. The last two entries shown in each table are estimates contained in the Governor's Budget as submitted to the Legislature.

Aggregate fiscal year revenues, segregated by general and special funds, are shown in Table Q-5. For the most part, general fund receipts are derived from broad levies and charges not earmarked for particular purposes, while special fund receipts are dedicated for use in special services. Sales, personal income and corporation taxes are examples of the former; motor vehicle taxes and fees, which must be used for activities related to highways, roads and streets, are the leading special fund levies. Receipts from some revenue sources are apportioned by law between the general fund and certain special funds. Since 1929-30 there have been a few changes in the fund designation of receipts, and in this respect the totals are not strictly comparable throughout the period covered.

Table Q-6 shows revenue collections from each of the principal sources, without regard to fund. Data shown for the years prior to 1949-50 are taken from records of the State Controller. Amounts shown for 1949-50 and subsequent years represent accruals during the year to the collecting agency. Permit fees required in connection with such levies as the sales and motor vehicle fuel taxes are included with other receipts from these levies.

Expenditure data are summarized in accordance with the three principal sections of the budget; (1) State operations, which includes the expense of maintaining the various departments, boards, commissions and offices—including the legislative and judicial branches; (2) capital outlay—representing the cost of acquiring land, constructing and equipping new facilities, highway construction and similar expenditures; and (3) local assistance, which comprises State payments to local governments. Under State accounting practice, disbursements from proceeds of bond issues are treated as expenditures at the time the bonds are redeemed. Hence, initial payments from bond funds are not included in these totals.

Expenditures for the principal functions of government include amounts for all three of the general purposes mentioned above—State operations, capital outlay and local assistance.

The functional classification of State expenditures was revised in 1962 in order to conform this reporting so far as possible to the agency concept of governmental organization. The new classification is shown in Table Q-9, with one year, 1960-61, overlapping both Tables Q-8 and Q-9. Detailed information regarding the activities and services comprising each function may be obtained from budget summaries.

Information regarding the State's bonded debt, as reported by the State Treasurer, is arranged to show both the general trend since 1929-30 and a detailed statement of California's State bonded debt as of June 30, 1960. Short term obligations, chiefly in the form of treasury warrants outstanding in various amounts between 1933 and 1942, are not included.

The State Treasurer and the California Bonding Program—The State Treasurer has duties and responsibilities set forth both by the Constitution and by statute. Serving as banker for the State he receives all state revenues into the State Treasury and provides for the redemption of all state warrants. His responsibility includes the determination of the cash needs of the State on a daily basis and for the investment of all surplus funds. In addition he is the investment officer for various other state funds and trust accounts. The earnings from all funds invested by the State Treasurer for the 1963-64 fiscal year exceeded $38.9 million. Interest earned on investments is credited to the general fund and other funds of state government as provided by law.

The trust function of the State Treasurer's Office, providing for the safekeeping of all state-owned securities and other personal property, has increased during the year. On June 30, 1964, securities held for state funds, those deposited by banks to secure bank deposits and other pledges with state agencies and safekeeping items, totaled over $4.9 billion.

All state general obligation bonds authorized by the people are prepared, sold, serviced and redeemed by the State Treasurer. Of the $2.9 billion outstanding on June 30, 1964, approximately two-thirds is represented by self-liquidating bonds serviced by certain earmarked receipts other than general tax sources. In the 1963-64 fiscal year, state bond sales totaled $380 million. During the past two years the low bids accepted on state bond offerings of 20-25 year bonds have continued to average below the national bond indexes.

Harbor Development Bonds—Of the $60 million issue authorized by the voters in 1958 for harbor development, $50 million was for the San Francisco Port Authority. The Port Authority operates 12½ miles of piers and terminals in the San Francisco Bay, with an annual trade of more than 5.3 million tons. All redemptions and interest payments on outstanding bonds have been paid out of revenue received from operation of the port facilities.

Ten million dollars of the 1958 issue was made available for loans to cities, counties and districts for small craft harbors and related facilities. These bonds are self-liquidating, as the revenues received for operation of the small craft facilities will repay the principal and interest on the bonds.

State School Building Aid Bonds—The continued population growth contributes to the demand for additional new classroom facilities for local elementary and high schools. A total of 41,640 classrooms to house 1,385,540 pupils have been approved under the programs that began in 1949. By June 30, 1964, a total of $1.2 billion in school building aid bonds had been sold of the $1.3 billion authorized by the electorate. An authorization of $260 million will be placed before the electorate in November, 1964.

Veterans' Farm and Home Loan Bonds—Projections made at the end of 1963 indicate that all present authorizations will be needed; however, no additional authorizations will be requested until 1970 at the earliest. Since 1921, when the program began, 210,983 loans have been made to qualified California Veterans. Of these 79,077 have been repaid and 131,906 were still in force as of June 30, 1964. The program is entirely self-supporting, with the administration costs, bond redemptions and interest coming entirely from veterans' payments.

Water Development Program Bonds—A total of $150 million of the $1.75 billion general obligation bonds authorized by the voters in 1960 under the Burns-Porter Act had been sold as of June 30, 1964. The California Water Project as now designed will provide an estimated firm water supply of 4 million acre-feet annually, but the water program must be considered as a continuing one. The Burns-Porter Act dedicates certain revenues of the project, remaining after provision for the expense of operation, maintenance and replacements, to the payment of the principal of and interest on the Water Bonds.

[a] The functional classification of State expenditures was revised in 1962 to conform more closely to the agency concept of governmental organization. For years prior to 1962, figures have been revised to fit the new categories. Principal changes effected in Table Q-9 are: (1) the inclusion of bond interest and redemption under the functions for which the debt was incurred, rather than in "Other" expenditures; (2) inclusion of the Department of Mental Hygiene under "Health and Welfare," rather than combining these expenditures with those of the Departments of Corrections and Youth Authority; (3) combining under "Public Safety" the Disaster Office, Department of Justice, Military Affairs (all formerly classified as "Other" expenditures), Veterans Affairs and Fire Marshal (both formerly in "Social Welfare and Public Health"); (4) showing as "Business and Commerce" the expenditures of regulatory and licensing agencies (formerly in "Other"); and (5) showing separately as "Employment Relations" the Department of Industrial Relations and expenditures from State funds by the Department of Employment.

[b] As shown in the 1964-65 State Budget submitted to the Legislature.

[a] Includes value of materials in State used for the purpose of repairing, improving, or operating the cars; excludes value of fixed properties of private car lines.

[b] Includes penalties for failing to file timely returns.

Note: Beginning in 1938, owners of private cars operated over railroads (sleeping cars, refrigerator cars, and tank cars are typical of this type of property) became subject to property taxation for state purposes under the provisions of the Private Car Tax Law. Prior to 1938 this property was taxed locally.

This tax is administered by the Board of Equalization, which, on or before the third Monday in August, levies a tax computed at the preceding year's average rate of property taxation in the State. Section 11403 of the Revenue and Taxation Code provides that the board shall compute the average rate of taxation in the State by adding the taxes of counties, cities, school districts, and other special districts (but not special assessments) and dividing the amount obtained by the total assessed valuation in the State of property subject to county taxation. Legally speaking, this is the only state property tax currently levied, though the vehicle license fee is classified by the Bureau of the Census as a property tax.

[a] From 1938 to date, excludes the value of railroad cars operated by private car companies, which are subject to exclusive state taxation.

Note: In 1933 a constitutional amendment was adopted which required that the Board of Equalization assess the properties of railroad, express, telegraph, telephone, gas, electric, and car line companies, as well as intercounty pipe lines, flumes, canals, ditches, and aqueducts. The property so assessed (first used for extension of 1935-36 taxes) was to be taxed to the same extent and in the same manner as other property.

Prior to 1935 public utilities were exempt from local taxation on their operating properties (except for service of local debts outstanding in 1911) by reason of their payment of a state tax on gross operating revenues, and their nonoperating properties were assessed locally.

[a] In 1935, the intangible property subject to taxation was notes, debentures, shares of capital stock (less the pro rata value of corporate property taxed in the State), bonds, solvent credits (less debts of similar nature owed to residents), deeds of trust, and mortgages, except intangibles secured by land in the State. Since 1935, solvent credits (less debts of similar nature owed to residents) have been the only taxable intangibles. The definition of solvent credits was constricted in 1957; the term now means credits unsecured by land, arising out of the sale of goods or services, other than notes, bonds, debentures, and intercorporation advances or deposits between affiliated corporations. Solvent credits are taxed at 1 mill per dollar. The proceeds of the solvent credits tax are divided equally among the county, the city, and the school district if the situs of the property is within an incorporated municipality and equally between the county and the school district if not.

[a] In 1935, the intangible property subject to taxation was notes, debentures, shares of capital stock (less the pro rata value of corporate property taxed in the State), bonds, solvent credits (less debts of similar nature owed to residents), deeds of trusts, and mortgages, except intangibles secured by land in the State. Since 1935, solvent credits (less debts of similar nature owed to residents) have been the only taxable intangibles. The definition of solvent credits was constricted in 1957; the term now means credits unsecured by land, arising out of the sale of goods or services, other than notes, bond, debentures, and intercorporation advances or deposits between affiliated corporations. Solvent credits are taxed at 1 mill per dollar. The proceeds of the solvent credits tax are divided equally among the county, the city, and the school district if the situs of the property is within an incorporated municipality and equally between the county and the school district if not.

[c] County school service tax levies and levies for junior college tuition are imposed by the county but were tabulated as school district levies until the 1951-52 fiscal year, when school service tax levies were shifted to the county column, and 1953-54, when both types of levies were tabulated as county levies.

[d] Computed by dividing city tax levies by the assessed value of tangible property inside cities as shown on county assessment rolls. Slightly lower rates would result from the use of assessed values as shown on city assessments rolls in the cities which do their own assessing. For example, in 1962-63, the average city rate was $1.54 when computed by the latter method.

[a] Computed by dividing total levies, both secured and unsecured, by the total taxable assessed value and multiplying by 100. The weighted average tax rate may fall outside the range of the secured code area tax rate if the rates applicable to the valuation on the unsecured roll differ sufficiently from the secured roll rates; e.g., in Alpine and San Francisco counties.

[b] Rates applicable to land only or to land and improvements only are not included.

[a] The information in the series is not strictly comparable. For the fiscal years 1940-41 through 1952-53 information is taken from the report prepared by counties, including only selected districts and not, in all cases, all of the information concerning the activities of a given district. For the fiscal years 1953-54 to date, the information is taken from separate reparts of the financial transaction of districts. For districts other than school districts, the types of districts included were increased from fiscal year 1953-54 through 1955-56 as the program of the reporting for districts was expanded. The figures for bonded indebtedness include time warrants as well as certain long term contractual obligations between special districts and the Federal Bureau of Reclamation.

[b] Indebtedness for school and special districts from fiscal year 1953-54 to date include school purpose bonds which are an obligation of the City and County of San Francisco and not of the school district. Listing within this table is for information purposes only. For 1953-54, $44,405,000; 1954-55, $45,826,000; 1955-56, $43,147,000; 1956-57, $41,458,000; 1957-58, $44,289,000; 1958-59, $44,115,000; 1959-60, $46,840,000; 1960-61, $44,990,000; 1961-62, $44,225,000; 1962-63, $38,690,000.

SECTION S.

TRADE AND SERVICE

This section presents information on wholesale and retail trade in California as these are reflected in taxable sales data and in the department store sales index of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, and on the services as reflected by the licensing activities of the State agencies which examine and license professional and vocational personnel and establishments.

Taxable sales data. Detailed statistics are given on the number of outlets and the amount of taxable transactions of establishments licensed by the State Board of Equalization to sell tangible personal property. The data are shown for retail stores classified by the type of business, for personal service establishments, for contractors and manufacturers and wholesalers of building materials, and for all other outlets. Data are shown for two or more years by type of business for the State as a whole, totals for each county and city, and also by type of business for each of California's 8 most populous counties and for 34 cities and 18 counties whose annual retail store sales in 1963 are expected to exceed $100 million. In general, outlets are classified according to the seller's principal line of business, using the Standard Industrial Classification developed by the United States Bureau of the Budget. Certain types of businesses selling only merchandise not subject to sales tax are not licensed and, consequently, are not represented in the statistics. The principal exclusions are establishments selling only food for home consumption, such as produce markets, meat and seafood markets, poultry stores, dairy stores, bakeries, etc.

The taxable transactions of retail stores may not be the same as their gross receipts because not all of their transactions are subject to sales tax. The principal exemptions from the tax are the sales of (a) food for home consumption, (b) gasoline, which is subject to the motor vehicle fuel license tax, (c) utility services when delivered to consumers through mains, lines, or pipes, (d) animal life, feed, seeds, plants, and fertilizers when used for the production of food for humans, (e) newspapers and periodicals and (f) prescription medicines. For a complete list of exemptions see section 6351 through 6404 of the Revenue and Taxation Code of California. Also not included in taxable transactions are service charges, a source of receipts of many retail stores and all service establishments.

The statistics also include purchases of equipment, fixtures, supplies, and material from outside of the State on which use taxes are reported and paid by the purchasers.

The Board of Equalization publishes quarterly reports containing outlet and taxable sales data by type of business for the State as a whole, for 56 counties and for 128 of the largest cities of the State as determined by the dollar volume of taxable transactions during the 1960 calendar year as reported by retail stores. It also publishes outlet and taxable sales data for the retail stores and for all outlets for each of its 380 cities. In 1960 the First Annual Report of outlet and taxable sales data was issued by the board. This series contains even more detail on taxable sales by type of business than the quarterly reports.

Licensed professional and vocational personnel and establishments. Statistics are presented giving the numbers of licensed professional and vocational personnel and the licensed establishments based on operating statistics of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards. The growth of activity in the licensed professions and vocations can be inferred from the data presented, but it must be noted that no direct measure is available of the volume of professional and vocational services provided by the licensees.

Department store sales index. As part of a Federal Reserve System program, the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco prepares a monthly press release giving department store sales indices for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District and selected states, areas, and cities. These indices reflect daily average retail sales at all stores meeting the definition of a department store in the Standard Industrial Classification. A probability sample is not used in collecting data, but coverage of 89 per cent of total department store sales in California and higher coverage in most of the smaller areas (based on the 1954 Census of Retail Trade) gives a good measure of sales activity at these stores. The nonreporting department stores are reflected in the index by means of a ''blow-up'' factor derived at the time of benchmark adjustments, the latest being obtained from the 1954 Census of Retail Trade. In 1951, in addition to the adjustment to 1948 benchmark data, a major revision of the department store series was made including adopting 1947-1949 daily average sales as the base period. A detailed discussion of the methods used in preparing the indices and a detailed description of the 1951 revision and of the adjustment to the 1954 benchmark data are given in the December 1951 and December 1957 issues of the Federal Reserve Bulletin. The indices were intended as an indicator of movements in total retail sales when the series was started in 1919. Changes in the structure of the retail sector since that time have made the department store series alone less useful for this purpose. When combined with other retail trade statistics, however, it can be used as a means of obtaining estimates of consumer expenditures.

Port Statistics. The dollar value of foreign trade, as compiled by the United States Department of Commerce, is presented for the three customs districts in California. Leading imports are coffee, crude petroleum, newsprint, autos and trucks, copra and crude rubber. Major exports are raw cotton, industrial machinery, food products, petroleum products, iron and steel mill items, and dairy products.

The statistics on tonnage of inbound and outbound oceanborne cargo were prepared by the United States Army, Corps of Engineers.

Other information sources on California world trade and shipping are the San Francisco World Trade Center Authority and the San Francisco Port Authority, both State of California agencies.

[b] Prescription drugs sales were exempted from the sales tax effective January 1, 1962.

[c] Not strictly comparable with figures for prior years because part-time business operations formerly included with "Itinerant and mail-order vendors" have been reclassified and are now part of the "all other manufacturing, wholesaling, and miscellaneous outlets" class.

Note: Data for 1956 are repeated to present the subtotals resulting from the new groupings for food stores, candy and tobacco stores and building materials yards and stores.

[a] State and local sales tax is computed at 3½ percent of the figure in the preceding column. Federal retailers' excise taxes collected by the California Directors of Internal Revenue in the 1954-55 Fiscal Year were added as follows: taxes on furs, to apparel and accessories stores; on jewelry, to jewelry stores; on toilet goods, to drug stores; and on luggage, to other specialty stores.

[b] Includes hay, grain, and feed stores.

[c] Includes news dealers and newsstands.

[d] Includes bicycle stores.

NOTE: Because of inherent differences in the contents of the figures being compared, the over-all ratio of 71 percent is not significant. By removing from both sets of figures the sales of food stores and service stations, a much better comparison is obtained. The remaining dollar volumes then become $9,988,670,000 for self-assessed taxable transactions adjusted for sales and excise tax collections and $10,692,143,000 for census-reported sales, and the ratio becomes 93.4. This appears to be a reasonably high ratio since the census figure, even after the modifications indicated, still contains a considerable volume of non-taxable receipts.

[a] State and local sales tax is computed at 4 per cent of the figure in the preceding column. Federal retailers' excise taxes collected by the California Directors of Internal Revenue in the 1958-59 fiscal year were added as follows: taxes on furs, to apparel and accessories stores; on jewelry, to jewelry stores; on toilet goods, to drug stores; and on luggage, to other specialty stores.

[c] Includes second-hand stores.

[d] Includes hay, grain, and feed stores.

[e] Excludes musical instruments stores and jewelry stores normally included in specialty stores group and includes tobacco stores whose sales are normally reported with those of packaged liquor dealers.

Note: Because of inherent differences in the contents of the figures being compared, the over-all ratio of 72 per cent is not significant. By removing from both sets of figures the sales of food stores and service stations, a much better comparison is obtained. The remaining dollar volumes then become $12,336,694,000 for self-assessed taxable transactions adjusted for sales and excise tax collections and $13,048,737,000 for census-reported sales, and the ratio becomes 94.5. This appears to be a reasonably high ratio since the census figure, even after the modifications indicated, still contains a considerable volume of non-taxable receipts. Incidentally, this ratio is a full percentage point higher than the comparable one for 1954.

[a] Figures in this table represent taxable distributions and are compiled from the monthly tax returns of the taxpayers. Because the tax liability attaches at the time alcoholic beverages are sold by manufacturers or importers rather than at the time a retail sale is made or when the consumption occurs, the above data are referred to as apparent consumption figures rather than as actual consumption figures.

[b] The division of still wines between table and dessert wines was estimated by applying to total apparent consumption of still wines the percentages reported for the second half of 1937. The tax rate was the same for both types of still wine until July 1, 1937; hence the two types were not separately reported on tax returns.

[c] Includes a relatively small amount of tax-exempt beer distributions to the Armed Forces. Prior to June 1951 such distributions were taxable.

SECTION T.

BUSINESS INVESTMENTS AND PROFITS

This section presents corporate business activity and income data reported on returns filed with the Franchise Tax Board.

Corporations doing business in California and those having income from California sources but not technically doing business here are subject to the Bank and Corporation Tax Law. Chapter 2 of the law imposes the bank and corporation franchise tax and Chapter 3 the corporation income tax.

The bank and corporation franchise tax is imposed for the privilege of doing business in California and is according to or measured by the amount of net income earned in or allocable to the State in the preceding fiscal or calendar year. A corporation conducting a unitary business both within and without the State applies an allocation factor to its income in order to determine the amount subject to state taxation. The standard allocation formula is the arithmetic average of three factors—the ratio of California sales to total sales, the ratio of California payrolls to total payrolls, and the ratio of California property to total property. For the period 1935-1958, the basic bank and corporation franchise tax rate was 4 percent and the minimum franchise tax $25 a year. For 1959 and subsequent years, the rate was set at 5½ percent and the minimum tax, with limited exceptions, was increased to $100. Banks are exempt from paying the minimum tax.

The corporation income tax applies to corporations that derive income from California sources but do not engage in intrastate business in California. The corporation income tax rate is also 5½ percent (4 percent for 1958 and earlier income years) but there is no minimum tax. Data for these corporations have been omitted from Tables T-1 to T-4. For 1962, they numbered only 1,988, reported $27,089,571 net income taxable in California, and paid $1,476,144 in corporation income taxes.

SECTION U.

TRANSPORTATION

Statistics relating to the mileage of roads, expenditures to construct and maintain these roads, gallons of feel used, and traffic and accident data on all freeways and on rural State highways are maintained and were compiled for publication by the Urban Planning Department of the Division of Highways, Department of Public Works.

The Highway Planning Survey inventoried all roads outside the incorporated areas during the period 1949-55. The counties are required to maintain the inventory of the roads under their jurisdiction and report changes in mileage in May of each year. Roads outside cities not maintained by the State or counties, shown in the accompanying tables, are based on the 1949-55 inventory.

The accident statistics contained in this report are based upon fatal and injury accidents involving a motor vehicle. The reports from which these statistics are compiled are those required to be reported to the California Highway Patrol under Section 20008 of the Vehicle Code. Accidents involving "property damage only" are not required to be reported and, consequently, do not reflect an accurate total.

In addition to the accident data contained in this report for 1962, the Department of California Highway Patrol also received an additional 2,499 reports of motor vehicle accidents which occurred on private property. These accidents resulted in death for 179 persons and injury to 2,843 persons.

SECTION V.

CONSTRUCTION

This section presents annual statistics on the value of building permits issued for various types of construction in California and new dwelling units as compiled by the Bureau of the Census, United States Department of Commerce, and formerly by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

National statistics for the period through 1959, ''Old Series'', covered approximately 6,600 permit issuing places in the United States—the total number of areas identified as permit issuing places in 1954. Data for 1959 and 1960 shown as the ''New Series'', are based on 3,014 reporting places selected out of the 10,000 known permit-issuing places in the United States in 1959. The selected places accounted for at least 90 percent of all housing units authorized by building permits in each state. Data for California are based upon 245 of approximately 400 permit offices in this State. The ''New Series'' is limited to private authorized construction except for public housing contract awards. Other public authorized construction data are not available.

Current monthly data on new residential construction authorized in permit issuing places for the United States, California and various local areas are given in Construction Reports, Building Permits, Bureau of the Census, United States Department of Commerce.

Private new non-residential construction for California has been prepared from special tabulations furnished by the Construction Statistics Division, Bureau of the Census, United States Department of Commerce.

[b] Old series—relates to the places in California included in the approximately 6,600 permit-issuing places in the United States identified early in 1954 as having building permit systems.

[c] Beginning with January 1960, the data collected and published monthly are based on information received from 3,014 places of the entire 10,000 known permit-issuing places in the United States. This selected group of areas consists generally of places where permits were issued during 1959 for at least 50 new residential housing units. The 3,014 places reporting monthly include 245 out of the approximately 400 known permit-issuing places in California.

SECTION W.

MANUFACTURING

This section presents data on manufacturing industries summarized from the U. S. Census of Manufactures and the annual surveys conducted by the United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census. Detailed information for individual industries and local areas is available in the published reports of the Bureau of the Census.

Except for 1954 and 1958, the statistics beginning with 1949 are based on sample surveys. In 1954, 1958 and for the designated years prior to 1949 complete censuses were taken.

Definitions

All employees—Includes all full-time and part-time employees on the payroll of the operating establishment. For 1959-62, all employees represent the average number of production workers employed for the payroll period ended nearest the 15th of March, May, August, and November plus all other employees for the payroll period ended nearest the 15th of March. For 1949-1958, it represents an average of employment totals for the payroll period ended nearest the 15th of March, May, August, and November. Prior to 1949, average employment was based on 12 monthly figures. Prior to 1947, the figures exclude data for central administrative offices and auxiliary establishments which are included in the statistics for later years.

Production workers—Includes workers engaged in fabricating, processing, assembling, inspection, receiving, storage, handling, packing, warehousing, shipping (but not delivering), maintenance, repair, janitorial, watchman services, product development, auxiliary production for plants' own use (e.g., power plant), record keeping, and other services closely associated with these production operations at the establishment covered by the report. Supervisory employees above the working foreman level are excluded from this category.

Value added by manufacture — The unadjusted value added is derived by subtracting the cost of raw materials, semimanufactured parts and components, supplies, fuels, purchased electric energy, and contract work from the value of shipments of manufacturing establishments in each industry. Adjusted value added figures are given from 1956, and consist of the unadjusted value added by manufacture plus the net change in finished goods and work-in-process inventory between the beginning and end of the year plus the value added in merchandising activities of manufacturing establishments.

New capital expenditures—Includes, for plants in operation, expenditures made during the year for permanent additions and major alterations to plants, as well as for tools, machinery and equipment purchases.

[a] Certain data, including all irrigation data, corrrected since publication of 1963 edition of California Statistical Abstract.

[b] Includes all rural use other than irrigation.

[c] Includes energy used for pumping by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation for the Central Valley Project.

[d] Includes energy used by Metropolitan Water District of Southern California for pumping Colorado River water through its main aqueduct, as well as use by other public agencies, railroads and street railways, and by electric utilities for plant operation.

Division of Resources Planning

[e] Equivalent subdivision of commercial and industrial use not available.

Note: Total quantities shown in this table differ from those in Table X-1 for two reasons. In the first place, some of the energy used in California is generated outside the State (and vice versa). Second, and more important, transmission and distribution losses are not included in the present table.
